Los Angeles Herald.
J. M. BASSETT, - Editor and Manager.
THE DAILY and WEEKLY HERALD has more than double the circulation of any other paper published in Southern California. Business men recognize it accordingly as the best advertising medium South of San Francisco.
SUNDAY,.....AUGUST 29, 1875.
NEWS OF THE MORNING.
Judge Thompson, Independent nominee for Congress, addressed a small audience in this city last evening.
The most intense feeling over the death of Ralston still prevails in San Francisco. It is yet unknown whether he committed suicide or was accidentally drowned.
The excitement over the failure of the Bank of California is subsiding in San Francisco, and it is believed business will be generally resumed to-morrow.
The banks of this city transacted no business yesterday. The managers thought it best to await the result of the panic in San Francisco. Depositors in Los Angeles banks need be under no apprehension. For every dollar our banks are responsible, they hold two dollars' worth of the soundest securities.
The inquest on the body of Mr. Ralston will not be held until to-morrow.
Passengers who left San Francisco yesterday per steamer Ancon will arrive to-morrow.
Late advices from San Francisco say that the Bank of California will do no more business, but will settle up as it can be done without sacrificing the securities.
The attempt of the Western Union Telegraph Company to obtain control of the Atlantic and Pacific Telegraph Company's lines has failed.
A dispatch from San Francisco says the Republicans are distributing throughout the State Democratic tickets in which they have printed the names of some of their candidates, including their candidate for Congressman.
Open letters seem to be the strong suit of the Republicans. RICHARDSON and Senator JONES have fluninated. Now if they can get Emperor NORTON and President GRANT to write an open letter, we think the Democratic majority will be largely increased.
Senator JONES' order to the people of Los Angeles county to vote for HOUGHTON excites contempt and indignation in all circles. The workmen on JONES' railroad cannot but interpret the letter to imply a threat that unless they vote for Mr. HOUGHTON they will be discharged. This is the old Comstock lode trick. Supts. of mines in Nevada are in the habit of voting the miners in their employ just as they please. Probably Senator JONES thinks he can do this with the people of Los Angeles county. If he entertains that notion, and his order is evidence that he does, he will soon be undeceived.
We heard an Independent remark yesterday that Mr. TEMPLE only wanted the Treasurer's office for the money he could make out of the county funds. We presume this is true, but we think the people had better keep their money in the hands of a man who has it on hands each month when the officer of the law call to count it. TEMPLE and WORKMAN agreed with the City Council to pay a stated interest on the city funds and though it is generally understood that the money is in their bank and that they are using it, they have never paid a cent of interest and do not intend to. ROWAN has proved an honest custodian of the county funds, and if the people are wise they will retain a tried and faithful servant.
Purity and Reform.
It was the purpose of Messrs. BRIERLY and BOUTON when they put up the Republican county convention and threw over it the thin Independent covering to require of the delegates an endorsement of HOUGHTON for Congress, but on reflection it was thought more politic to say nothing about him in the convention and compel an endorsement and support by Independent speakers from the stump, and in the columns of the Independent organ. This resolve Messrs. BOUTON and BRIERLY made known to the Independent candidates after their nomination and a few murmured, saying that they preferred to support the Independent nominee. These murmurs were quieted by a threat from Messrs. B. and B. that unless the Independents agreed to support HOUGHTON they would call a Republican county convention, nominate, a straight-out Republican ticket and beat every Republican nominated by the so called Independent convention. This was a clincher and the Republican, HOUGHTON, secured the support of the Independent county candidates. The next move was to force the Independent, the Independent campaign paper, to advocate the election of HOUGHTON. When raising the funds to run that paper Judge THOMPSON, Independent nominee for Congress, was assessed three hundred dollars, but in consideration of the fact that his field of operation extended over the entire district, his assessment was reduced to one hundred dollars. After the paper was started the HOUGHTON managers of the Independent movement waited on the editor of the Independent and threateningly demanded that he should discontinue his support of Judge THOMPSON and advocate HOUGHTON. The threat was unheeded and the demand denied, and the Independent is not popular with Messrs. B. and B. nor with the majority of the candidates whom it supports. We mention this incident in the inside workings of the so called Independent party of this county to illustrate the difference between the profession and the practice of the managers, it shows how much they are for party and how little for principle; it convinces the most sceptical that the cry of "purity and reform" is but a hollow sound—a fraud and a deception, intended to deceive the people into placing the old extravagant and corrupt Republican party again in power. It was not enough to force the Independent convention to nominate Republicans for county offices and then for them to support HOUGHTON. Proscriptions must be carried still further and the paper which Judge THOMPSON was assessed to support, was threatened with annihilation if it did not advocate his opponent. And this is the purity, reform and independence of the Independent party of Los Angeles county.

Sailing Without a Chart.

THE navigator who would venture upon the ocean without compass or chart, would scarcely command the confidence of the traveler or the shipper. Neither the life of the one nor the merchandise of the other would be entrusted to the results of chance. The man who attempts to manage a bank without a correct guide is equally exposed to danger, and as certain to meet with disaster. Fortune may favor him for a time, but he must ultimately meet the fate of the empyre. The financiers of this Pacific coast, the men who have controlled the fabulous wealth of this favored land, and held the destinies of the Commonwealth in their hands, have been recklessly driving before the wind without chart or compass, and that they have at last reached a dangerous sea should be a matter of surprise. That disaster did not overtake them sooner is indeed wonderful. The financial world is governed by principles as unerring as the law of gravity. The ebb and flow of the financial tide is closely watched by all experienced bankers, and for this purpose aggregate bank statements are published. The weekly statement of the associated banks of New York is closely analyzed by thousands. The statements of the banks of England, France, Prussia, and other European countries, are anxiously looked for, and become the guide of financiers in their operations. Do they see the coin going out, Lombard street becomes cautious; the Directors of the Bank of England advance the rate for money, and the depletion is stopped. In California alone does every banker steer independently, and there is no guide to show whether coin is flowing into the State or flowing out of it; whether trading is overdone, or whether money is lying idle. Whether there is ten or fifty millions of coin in the bank vaults, no one knows; whether the banks have extended themselves too far cannot be ascertained. There is no public barometer to indicate an approaching storm, and this because the law does not compel the banks to publish sworn statements. It may be found then that the banks of San Francisco, instead of having the vast hoards of gold and silver, which they are supposed to possess, may have scarcely any. To be on a perfectly safe basis, there should be about $30,000,000 in coin in circulation on the Pacific coast. This is allowing one million population and $30 per capita, (which is about double the average in the State before the war.) Of this sum $25,000,000 should be in the banks. It may seem strange to those who have given the subject no consideration, that when the annual product of the precious metals has been $75,000,000, and the total product of the last eighteen years over $700,000,000, so paltry a sum as we have mentioned has not accumulated. Yet we doubt if the banks of San Francisco hold over half that amount. The fact that the Bank of California only had $1,500,000 to meet about ten millions of dollars deposits, does not warrant the inference that there is much coin left near the Golden Gate. We know it is commonly believed that the banks in this State hold one hundred millions of dollars specie and bullion, but the absurdity of such a proposition will readily appear from consideration of the fact that the Bank of England, which keeps the specie of all the Kingdom, usually holds only £20,000,000, and has now but £29,000,000, an enormous surplus; and that this is the coin reserve of the thirty-five million people of Great Britain, whose annual foreign commerce amounts to three million of dollars. But where has all this vast product of the precious metals gone to? We answer it is now in Europe. It has gone out through the Golden Gate and across the Continent to be shipped to London. The foreign exports of specie and bullion from the United States nearly equals the annual product, (and where else than the Pacific coast does it come from?) the rest has been consumed by the jewellers. The State has been sending it abroad to pay for what she consumed. The miner has to be fed, clothed and provided with tools and machinery, the public improvements have absorbed many millions. It is but recently that agriculture has assumed large proportions in this section, and even at the present time not half the population is engaged in cultivating the soil. It is labor which gives the intrinsic value to the precious metals, so that for every dollar of specie there has been one dollar's worth of labor bestowed. What the miner has not spent for subsistence is the profit, and alone remains in the State. Prosperity has made our people extravagant, and we have been importing about as much as we exported. During the six months ending July 1st, 1875, the treasure shipments from San Francisco have been $29,101,200 against $14,975,400, same time last year, an increase of over one hundred per cent. The financiers have neglected to check this outflow of coin, or rather have paid no attention to it; and now they will learn by dear bought experience that precaution is by far better than cure. If the people suffer some, the banker will suffer more.

The Sacramento Bee, a leading Republican journal concedes the election of IRWIN and gives as its reason for so doing that PRELPS has no chance and the people prefer IRWIN to BIDWELL. The Bee's conclusion is correct. The Democratic State ticket will no doubt be elected by a majority of from 20,000 to 25,000. The PRELPS ticket will stand second on the list for the reason that it is an abler ticket than that headed by BIDWELL, and because the Republicans are doing all in their power to poll the largest possible vote as a basis for the Presidential campaign. Another fact which the people fully understand is that though BIDWELL may be ever so honest he is totally deficient in point of intellectual ability. He is a man of too feeble mind to fill the gubernatorial chair of the State of California.

DISTRIBUTION OF PUBLIC SCHOOL MONIES!

A Letter from the County Superintendent.

EDITOR HERALD: To show that a recent attack upon the County School Superintendent, for withholding from certain districts their proper proportion, has arisen from gross ignorance as well as malice. I publish the new law on distribution. It became operative August 1874:

School Law. Sec. 1858. "All school moneys apportioned by the Superintendent of Public Instruction (Hon. H. N. Bolander) must be apportioned to the several counties in proportion to the number of census children between five and seventeen years of age, as shown by the returns of the School Census Marshals of the preceding school year. The School Superintendents of each county must apportion all State and County school moneys, as follows:

First. He must ascertain the total number of teachers each district is entitled to, by calculating one teacher for every one hundred census children, or fraction thereof, if not more than fifteen census children, as shown by the next preceding school census.

Second. He must ascertain the number of teachers for the county, by adding together the number of teachers assigned to the several districts.

Third. Five per cent of the total shall be apportioned to each district for every teacher assigned to it; provided that, to districts having ten and less than fifteen census children shall be apportioned three hundred dollars.

Fourth. All school moneys remaining on hand after apportioning five hundred dollars to each district having fifteen census children or more, for every teacher assigned to it, and after apportioning three hundred dollars to districts having less than fifteen census children, must be apportioned to the several districts having less than fifty census children, in proportion to the number of census children in each district."

Under the previous system, State and County apportionments were pro rata according to the number of census children, and in no other way. Tardies not conversant with the new law naturally may have supposed the County Superintendent to have committed errors in recent distributions. Under the old system, towns and thickly settled portions, received an undue share of moneys. Sparsely settled places received so little that education to them was impossible. The new law is in the interest of a large class in the county formerly helpless. It is intended to equalize educational privileges; to give the weakest district an opportunity to maintain an eight months school, as well as the most favored. GEO. H. PECK.

"Broad-Axe" Slashes Col. Peel.

EDITOR HERALD: Your kind indulgence heretofore prompts me to pen you a line for publication. On last evening the Independents had a grand rally here. A large concourse of people was present and many speeches were made by candidates and others. There was little or no enthusiasm. All seemed to wonder what it meant and what they were talking about until Col. Peel took the stand. He advocated the election of Houghton, the back-salary-grab robber, and the indignation of the people rose to an intense excitement. He left the stand with but a faint applause from two black Republicans. And then a rejoicing sentiment ran all along the line of spectators, calling for the "Broad-Axe." That gentleman at last put in an appearance amid thundering applause. He answered Peel; and if ever there was a Peel peeled and skinned from tip to tip was that man called Col. Peel, once a Democrat, as he was pleased to say, but now ignored by the old Democratic ship, in the support of Houghton, who has the blackest record known outside of spoon Butler. But let me tell you El Monte will vote in solid phalanx for the Democracy. Houghton, Peel, and back-grab robbers are all distasteful to the people, and the "Broad-Axe" is after him; that is, the two inches of his tail that was left of him last night. That little insignificant part has started out to make another talk or two at the Azusa and Spadra. The "Axe" says before he is done with him all of him will be gone but a few gray hairs of that short tail. PRO BONO.

El Monte, August 27, 1875.

An Old Trick.

The opposition are at their old tricks. They are conscious that they cannot elect a single candidate except by chicanery. We yesterday received the following dispatch:

SAN FRANCISCO, August 28th. To J. M. Bassett, Editor Herald: The opposition is sending tickets all over the State with Taggart, Gardner, Baehr, and their Congressmen in place of ours. Look out for them and give proper notice. J. C. MAYNARD, Secretary D. S. C. C.

Ralston's Death Thought to be Not a Suicide.

BETTER FEELING IN REGARD TO MONEY MATTERS.

[SPECIAL TO THE HERALD.]

PACIFIC COAST.

San Francisco News.

SAN FRANCISCO, August 28th.—The inquest on Ralston is concluded for the present. An autopsy is being made and the result will not be known until to-morrow. The preliminary testimony shows the conclusion that Ralston died from the effects of a fit of apoplexy, superinduced by going into cold water while in a very heated condition, and the verdict will probably be to that effect. The funeral takes place from Calvary Church on Monday at 11 A. M. Public bodies have been invited to participate and many will accept. The Stock Boards and the Produce Exchange met to-day and passed the usual resolutions of condolence and respect. Every flag in the city is flying at half-mast; also those of many vessels in the harbor, and the Stock Board and the Bank of California are draped in mourning.

The stock brokers are much encouraged by the state of affairs to-day. Many of them anticipate an early resumption of business, and the Board will begin again in a week from Monday.

The Merchants' Exchange and Trust Banks promise an early resumption of business. Arrangements are being made to have the reserve of the Sub-Treasury here put into the banks, which will be done by the middle of next week. This amounts to $3,000,000 and will help materially.

No brokers are as yet reported insolvent. The merchants are pressing county merchants for all they can get, but no more measures are taken except such as are necessary to protect themselves in law. Daily transfers are made to the Sub-Treasury from New York. By Tuesday or Wednesday next all will be well with our banks here.

The Merchants' Exchange Bank and National Gold Bank and Trust Company will probably open by the middle of next week, when they will be prepared to meet all demands that may be made on them. There will be no serious result from this panic, everything going on smooth. No failures and no prospects of any. After the banks are re-opened business will continue as usual with probably an improvement as there will be more money afloat than will be required for all purposes. This is a very good natured break, nobody seems to be hurt by it and there will be no damage, as accounts are allowed to stand as they are until preparations are made to pay all necessary demands. The Merchants' Exchange Bank, and National Gold Bank and Trust Company are as sound as ever.

Political Meeting at Modesto.
MODESTO, August 28th.—Senator Sargent had been announced to speak here this evening, which drew a large crowd of Republicans from all parts of the county. Robert Ferral and Dr. Shorb had also been announced to address the Democracy. Senator Sargent failed to come. The Democrats procured a brass band from Stockton and are now holding a large and enthusiastic meeting in front of the Modesto House, getting the full benefit of Senator Sargent's audience, as well as their own. Col. C. H. King, Judge Lamar, D. S. Terry and J. H. Budd are addressing the meeting. The Republicans are disgusted at the failure of Sargent and the Democrats are jubilant at the success of their meeting.

EASTERN NEWS.

Oil Refinery Burned.
NEW YORK, August 28th.—Woodruff & Horton's oil refinery on Shooter Isle, between Staten Island and New Jersey, exploded this morning and was destroyed by fire. Loss on building, $7,000; on oil, $2,000.

Did Not want to Marry.

FITCHBURG, Mass., August 28th.—C. T. Howe, 20 years of age, hung himself last night. He belonged in Gardner, Mass., was in good circumstances and was to have been married next Wednesday. No cause for the rash act has been attributed as yet.

The Money Market.

NEW YORK, August 28th.—The gold market closed at 114. A leading bullion broker was free seller this forenoon, and not for short account apparently. This gave the impression that any further important financial California troubles or the supposed scarcity of the cash gold is not probable.

The Commercial Advertiser in its money article says it seems to be pretty well ascertained that the much talked of new bank on the Pacific Coast, the Bank of Nevada, is a myth; nor is such concern even backed by the owners of the great bonanza at Virginia City likely to work its way into respectable credit. If such a bank is started it had best be given a wide berth in New York and England.

The Western Union Fall.

NEW YORK, August 28th.—The Graphic in its money article to-day, says the effort to depreciate the value and power of the Atlantic and Pacific Telegraph Company, with a view of inducing the stockholders to accept nominal consideration from the Western Union Telegraph Co., for turning over its property and prospects, will fail. It ascertained that notwithstanding the great misfortune of Gen. Eckert's illness, the lines of the Atlantic and Pacific have, during the Spring and Summer, been greatly improved, and new lines constructed. The earnings have increased materially during the worst season of the year for telegraph business. With the improved condition of lines and great capacity furnished by the automatic system, the coming year is bright with promise. Instead of the company being in debt, as rumor states, it is entirely out of debt, with a fair balance in the treasury, sufficient for all existing purposes. It is reported that the absolute control of the automatic and quadruplex systems, to be paid for by the Atlantic and Pacific through an issue of stock which will be cash expenditure. Gen. Eckert will probably be at his post again within ten days, hence the grand scheme of consolidation, so longed for by the Western Union, is not yet a thing completed, and it is just as well that the Atlantic and Pacific stockholders should understand that the reports that the Atlantic and Pacific Co. was in an insolvent condition are entirely erroneous, and were undoubtedly circulated by persons interested in selling that company out to the Western Union.

New York's New Post-Office.

NEW YORK, Aug. 28.—At 10 o'clock to-night old post-office on Nassau St. was deserted at dark and new one thrown open to the public. The whole work of removal occupied only four hours.

All Quiet in New York.

NEW YORK, Aug. 28.—Wall street was very quiet to-day, and everything seemed to be about as usual before the announcement of California panic. The collapse of Bank of California is not much observed, and it is the general opinion of all that business in the East will not be effected by the suspension. Private dispatches state that the panic is over and business confidence restored. Laidlaw Bros, agents here for Bank of California are meeting all their acceptances promptly.

General Hillhouse, the Assistant U. S. Treasurer, says that transfers of gold have again been made to-day from the Sub-Treasury here to that of San Francisco, for relief of banks.

Gold Transfers.

WASHINGTON, August 28th.—The Government to-day transferred from New York to San Francisco about $600,000 in gold coin, making nearly $1,200,000 transferred during the past two days. The Treasurer says about $500,000 more will be as much as can be transferred in that way.

The Colored Voters.

On Monday evening, August 15th, the colored citizens of Los Angeles met in mass meeting to determine upon the course they should pursue in the present political campaign.

The meeting was organized by the election of J. Fletcher Gordon as Chairman and J. M. Redding as Secretary.

The Chairman very briefly stated the object of the meeting, when, on motion, the following Executive Committee was elected to attend to the political affairs of the colored people of this city: J. Fletcher Gordon, Chairman; J. M. Redding Secretary; Philip Pearson, George Van Buren, Lewis Green.

On motion, the colored people agreed to support the Republican State and Congressional ticket, leaving the making up of a county ticket to their own election.

The committee were instructed to look after the registration of the colored voters particularly and of others generally.

The name of Lue Green has been dropped from the committee for non-attendance upon its sessions.

Confirmation at the Synagogue.

Yesterday at 10 A. M. a large audience assembled at the Synagogue to witness the confirmation of Abraham M. Edelman, son of Rev. A. W. Edelman, the pastor of the congregation. The confirmation of Jewish males takes place at the age of thirteen, and from the date of confirmation the "Bar-Mitzvah" is responsible before God and man for his moral and religious deportment. The candidate for confirmation is supposed to have made the Pentateuch (the five books of Moses) his study, and to be prepared to stand a satisfactory examination in Hebrew by the Elders of the congregation. For the convenience of the members the Pentateuch is divided into fifty-two chapters, one of which is to be read each Sabbath, and these chapters are subdivided into seven sections. At the Bar-Mitzvah yesterday Messrs. J. Newman and M. Morris acted as the Elders of the Congregation and assisted at the recitation of the law from a written scroll. At the close of each of the seven sections a member of the congregation went forward and blessed the law. The concluding section is usually from the prophets, and at its close the Bar-Mitzvah (son of the Commandments) is an acknowledged son of Israel. The examination was pronounced most satisfactory by those who understood Hebrew, and must have been gratifying to the young man's relatives and friends, as well as flattering to his father and tutor, as he had been under instruction only six weeks. It being the custom for the "Bar-Mitzvah" to address the congregation, he did so in the following remarks:

MOST WORTHY CONGREGATION: In accordance with the tenets of our sacred religion, I am to-day numbered among the responsible sons of Israel, and am called a Bar-Mitzvah, a son of the commandment, with significant that I must take upon myself to perform the commandments of the Lord, to distinguish the difference between wrong and right, and that I alone am held responsible for all my actions. It is, therefore, requisite, previous to my solemn declaration of love and obedience to Israel's God and to Israel's religion, to invoke the name of our Heavenly Father to strengthen the resolves of my youthful heart, and to give you some proof that I am willing to live and to die in Israel's law, and through that law alone to seek salvation hereafter.

PRAYER.

Ha-sh-m-nah, Ah-do-noy, Taf-les-ah, Ya-ha-sh-e-vau, Ba-kole, Taf-naw-se. Give ear, O Eternal, to my prayer, and attend to the voice of my supplications, for I humbly beseech Thee to look down with mercy and may I favorably receive this day as a responsible member in Thy congregation, to claim a portion of the inheritance in Thy divine law. Strengthen, O Lord, the pious resolves of my youthful heart to reach that exalted destiny which Thou hast appointed to our race. Endow me with Thy holy spirit and support me with Thy love, that I may become a faithful servant of Thy will, obedient to Thy sacred statutes and an Israelite in heart and spirit. For I do avow here in Thy presence and in the midst of my congregation, that the decalogue which Thou hast revealed to the children of Israel on Mount Sinai is Thy direct revelation, and that it forms the base to all the religious obligations; that Thou art the Eternal God who brought us out of the land of Egypt and made us a people of bondage; that we must have no other Gods before Thee; that we must not take Thy holy name in vain; and to remember the Sabbath day to keep it holy, a sign forever; to honor our father and mother, for they are the basis of our life; that we must not commit adultery; that we must not steal, nor bear false witness against our neighbor, and that we must not covet anything that is our neighbor's. I also avow that the cardinal doctrines of the Jewish faith, as set forth in this decalogue, are the pure principles for every moral and social virtue. For I this day acknowledge with a perfect faith that Thou art the creator and governor of all created beings; that Thou alone hast made, and dost make, and ever shalt make, the world; that Thy unity is unlike any other unity; and that Thou alone art one God, who was, is, and forever shall exist; that Thou art immortal, and that Thou art not subject to any of those changes which are like to us, but that Thou art the God of the first and will be the last of all beings; that Thou alone ought to be worshipped and that we ought not to worship any other being; that all the words of the prophets are true; that the prophecies of Moses, our law-giver, are true; that Thou was the chief of the wise men that came before him and those after him; that the law now in our possession is the same that was given to Moses on Mount Sinai; that this law will never be changed and that Thou will never give us any other law; that Thou knowest all the thoughts and actions of man, for Thou hast formed the hearts of all men; that Thou rewardest those who keep Thy commandments and punishest those who transgress them; that Thou wilt send the Messiah to redeem all nations and be acknowledged our Almighty God, who created the world and all its inhabitants, and that there will be a resurrection of the dead at the time when it shall please Thy great and almighty name. Amen.

Our sacred bard said Lu-La, To-ro-sho, sha-ah-shu-ah, Os-oh-vad-te, Va-ou-ye. Were it not for the comforting delight of thy law I should have perished in my affliction. Now my friends, King David, who was the chosen King of the eternal God, to whom and to whose children after him, all the glories of Israel had been vouchsafed, declares, that were it not for the comforting delight of God's sacred law, he must have then perished in his affliction. What then must I say? I who am yet young in years, a young in experience, young in the knowledge of the world and above all, young in the knowledge of God and of God's sacred law; standing as I do at the very threshold of that law's obligations. Seeing that I have only been admitted a responsible member, subject to its divine behest and precepts, I ask, what shall I say? How do I presume to stand up in God's sanctuary to address a congregation assembled in God's holy name, my friends, in this my perplexity, I will gather courage from the example of our shepherd king, and with him I will exclaim—Lu-La, To-ro-sho, sha-ah-shu-ah. Were it not for the comforting delight of Thy sacred law. By which law I have just most solemnly pledged myself to live, to die, and to seek salvation, hereafter. Os-oh-vad-te, va-ou-ye. I must then indeed have perished in my affliction. Or, in other words, were it not for the hope of that divine law, by which I have only been permitted to have a foretaste, as it were, but from which I hope, under God's grace and blessing, to derive strength and stability, as I advance in age, knowledge and experience. I must have despaired, in my ignorance of God, and my inexperience of the world. But now that I stand in the presence of God, and of my dear friends, a responsible member of Judah, and Judaism, I solemnly pray to our heavenly Father to give me a knowledge of his law. That as I am now a Bar-itz vah, a child of Israel, through the capacity of religious majority, to be one of the chosen people, entitled like them to participating in the privileges and burdens of our brothers. I may also have the mental enlightenment to understand my duty, and the will and power to observe it all the days of my life. This day shall not be the only one of rejoicing to me, but one to be remembered always; to remind me when I shall be tempted to transgress; that to-day I have thanked God amidst the assembly of his servants. The house of Israel. Ah-share, na-sone, la-nu, to-ras, am-mess. That He has given us a law, Ya-ha-sh-e-vau, Ba-kole, Taf-naw-se, Ba-sha-sha-nu. And planted everlasting life in our hearts; and that I would commit an offence against God and truth, if I permitted myself to forget my dear parents that gave me earthly existence—the glorious ancestors from whom the Israelites have sprung, and the beautiful religion which we have received from the Creator of the world. Much is not in the power of a child, such as I am as yet, to accomplish. But this I can do, I can resolve to be good and dutiful; and I will trust firmly in the mercy of God to be with me in my earthly pilgrimage; to strengthen my resolves for good, so that I may acquire the dominion over the desire for transgression, to which our natural inclination might otherwise lead me. The future is truly before me like a sealed book, which I shall only be able to read slowly with advancing years and a greater knowledge of things than I possess now. But I will learn daily from those who are wiser and better than myself. I will listen to the voice of religion, which admonishes me to depend on God, not on human aid, and not to follow the example of sinners; and in short I will labor to obtain the approval of the Lord our God, and the good will of all those whose are mortal like myself.

In conclusion, my dear friends, I will crave your kind indulgence for a minute longer, while I bring that offering of thanks which emanate from a pure and great heart, and which may well be brought before God, in your presence, on the day of my Bar-Mitzvah. The 5th Commandment enjoins upon us to honor our parents. It is my desire now to mark my respect to my beloved parents, and to express my deep gratitude for their many tender cares, troubles and anxiety, in my behalf since my birth. My father, as an expression to parents on this happy day, must be a real thank-offering to God. Accept, therefore, my dear parents, the assurance of my filial love and affection, for the many cares and troubles I have no doubt caused you, and for the many sacrifices you have made in my behalf. O may the great God of Israel reward you with a thousand blessings, for the cares in rearing me and the rest of my sisters and brother, in the path of rectitude and in the fear of God; and may God be pleased to grant me life and prosperity, and keep me sensible to reward you with honor, pride and pleasure. Nor must I fail to express my thanks to you, dear father, as a teacher, and to all my instructors, both in the house of God, and in the world, and for the many sacrifices you have made in my behalf. TASTELESS MEDICINES.

A PROMINENT NEW YORK PHYSICIAN lately complained to Dundas Dick & Co. about their Sandalwood Oil Capsules, stating that sometimes they caused nausea, but that a patient of his had taken them without effect. On being informed that several imitations were sold, he inquired and found his patient HAD NOT BEEN TAKING DUNDAS DICK & CO.'S.

What happened to this physician may have happened to others, and Dundas Dick & Co. take this method of protecting physicians, druggists and themselves, and preventing OIL OF SANDALWOOD from coming into disrepute.

Physicians who once prescribe the Capsules will continue to do so, for they contain the PURE OIL in the BEST and CHEAPEST form.

Dundas Dick & Co. use more Oil of Sandalwood than all the wholesale and retail druggists and perfumers in the United States combined, and this is the sole reason why the PURE OIL is sold cheaper in their Capsules than in any other form.

PURE OIL in the BEST and CHEAPEST form. Every other remedy, sixty Capsules ONLY being required to insure a safe and certain cure in six or eight days. From no other remedy can this result be had.

DUNDAS DICK & CO'S SOFT CAPSULES solve the problem, long considered by eminent physicians, of how to avoid the nausea and disgust experienced in swallowing, which are well known to detract from, if not destroy, the good effects of many valuable remedies.

TASTELESS MEDICINES.—Castor Oil and many other nauseous medicines can be taken easily and safely in DUNDAS DICK & CO'S SOFT CAPSULES. NO TASTE. NO SMELL.

These were the only Capsules admitted to the last Paris Exposition.

Send for Circular to 35 Wooster street, N. Y. SOLD AT ALL DRUG STORES HERE.
